What do you intend to learn, acquire and clarify through this internship? Try to use concrete, measurable terms in listing your learning objectives under each of the following categories.

Knowledge and Understanding	Understanding of AS400 software for web development projects in banking sectore	Skill s	AS400
Learning Activities	The internship activities help in acquiring knowledge and understanding of the AS400 system by providing both theoretical learning and hands-on practice. Through regular training sessions, system navigation, and practical exercises, I am able to understand how enterprise systems operate in real-time. Working on AS400 commands, DB2 databases, and system operations allows me to strengthen my technical skills and gain confidence in handling system-level tasks. Collaboration with trainers and peers also improves communication skills and professional behavior, which are essential for workplace readiness.
On the Job Activities	During the internship, various on-the-job activities support the achievement of learning objectives. These include working with AS400 system navigation, executing commands, handling files, writing SQL queries, and performing job management tasks. Hands-on assignments, guided practice sessions, and continuous trainer support help in applying concepts learned during sessions. Mentor interactions, discussions, and practical demonstrations further enhance understanding of system workflows, problem-solving, and real-world application of AS400 concepts.
Teaching/Mentoring Activities	My technical knowledge of AS400 can be applied at the internship site by assisting peers in understanding system commands, navigation techniques, and basic DB2 operations. By sharing learning experiences, explaining concepts, and discussing solutions during group tasks, I can help others improve their understanding. Participating actively in discussions, clarifying doubts, and supporting teammates during practice sessions creates value by promoting collaborative learning and strengthening team performance.
Off the Job	Off-the-job activities also contribute significantly to achieving learning objectives. These include reading training material provided by instructors, reviewing class notes, and practicing system commands independently. Interaction with faculty or internship supervisors through regular meetings helps in tracking progress and resolving doubts. Observing system demonstrations, revisiting practice exercises, and referring to internal learning resources further strengthen understanding of AS400 concepts and professional development.
